The Official Newspaper of InfoComm 2019

PRODUCED FOR AVIXA BY THE PUBLISHER OF SYSTEMS CONTRACTOR NEWS, AV TECHNOLOGY, PRO SOUND NEWS, AND DIGITAL SIGNAGE

Dear InfoComm Exhibitor,

InfoComm 2019, to be held in Orlando, FL, from June 8-14, 2019 is coming up quickly. Again this year, Systems Contractor News will be producing a VIP Preview Edition and three on-site Daily editions with from-the-floor coverage of company and product news. The InfoComm Daily can be the primary means to publicize your new products at InfoComm, because it will be the primary source of product information for every show attendee.

InfoComm
Daily in Orlando, FL*

GUIDE FOR DAILY COVERAGE

Product press releases should be limited to 200 words maximum. Do not send a list of specs in lieu of a press release.

VIP coverage policy remains unchanged: one release per issue per exhibitor.

For the show issues, maximum number of press releases per issue: Two (2) per exhibitor. Please prioritize these by day and order of importance (Day 1/Priority 1, Day 1/Priority 2, etc.). And remember, not everyone can be in Day 1!

Please note the proper image specs for print publication: at least 300 DPI; at least three inches wide and deep, jpg or tiff preferred.

*Send Us Your VIP News
By April 22 and Your Show Issues News and Hot Products Entries by May 10*

HOT PRODUCTS

Hot Products is in essence our Editors' Choice of the 50 most innovation or new products at InfoComm. Exhibitors are allowed to submit two products to be considered for inclusion in Hot Products. Accompanying text should be no more than 40-50 words. There is no flexibility with regards to this word-count limit.

Hot Products entries must be real products, not prototypes, introduced following last year's InfoComm Expo; products must be available for order at the Expo; all Hot Products entries must be accompanied by a publishable image (see specs above).

Please send all materials by April 22 (VIP) or May 10 (At-Show) to:

Be Included in the InfoComm Daily

We are seeking press releases about new products your company will be unveiling at the convention, previously introduced products that will be featured at the booth, and releases about your company news: mergers, acquisitions, personnel changes, office openings, etc. If you send text or Microsoft Word files on CD-ROM, please be sure to include hard copy as well, in case there are any problems opening the files. Note: if requested, all information will be kept confidential until it is published in the Daily at the convention on June 8.

Photos are optional. If you do submit photos, they should be in JPEG or TIFF format at 300 dpi and approximately 3 inches wide.

please send press releases

Send in your InfoComm "Hot Products"

This year the InfoComm Show Daily will select the most significant new offerings at the show, based on technology, innovation, or originality. The criteria for eligibility include: 1) The product cannot have been shown at an InfoComm show except in non-saleable prototype form. 2) It must not be an improved version of a previously shown product. 3) It must have direct applicability to the business sectors served by InfoComm attendees. 4) The company must be an officially registered exhibitor as of April 22, 2019. 5) The product cannot be a prototype, but must actually be orderable at the show. 6) All submissions must be received by Future US by the listed cutoff dates. 7) Entries should be no longer than 50 words.

HOT PRODUCTS PHOTOS: You must send a photo to be considered. Photos should be in JPEG or TIFF format at 300 dpi and approximately 3 inches wide.
